Dear

Gloucestershire Constabulary Freedom of Information request FOI_24_0401

On 11/04/2024 you sent an email constituting a request under the Freedom of Information Act asking the following:

In January 2023 and in regards to your police force:

1. How many arrests of males on the grounds of sexual assault and how many of these lead to charge?
2. How many arrests of females on the grounds of sexual assault and how many of these lead to charge?
3. How many arrests of males on the grounds of assault by penetration and how many of these lead to charge?
4. How many arrests of females on the grounds of assault by penetration and how many of these lead to charge?
5. How many arrests of males on the grounds of rape lead and how many of these to charge?
6. How many arrests of females on the grounds of rape lead and how many of these to charge?

This is in the public interest to allay or confirm whether or not males are more likely to be charged than females as a result of an arrest.

I am aware that it is your legal duty to attempt to help me to achieve the underlying aim of this FOI request, and I am not aware of which particular information you can easily access. If you feel other information that is easier to access would also achieve my underlying aim, please supply that information.

On the 19/04/2024 we asked you to clarify your request and confirm the specific offences you would like us to use to conduct a search. You confirmed you wanted us to use the following offences:

017/15
020/05
017/13
017/14
020/03
020/04
019/07 - 019/19

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 s1, I can confirm that Gloucestershire Constabulary holds some relevant information.

Police Forces in the United Kingdom are routinely required to provide statistics to government bodies and the recording criteria is set nationally. However, the systems used for recording these figures are not generic, nor are the procedures used locally in capturing the data. It should be noted that for these reasons the figures given relate to information from the specific recording system of Gloucestershire Constabulary and should not be used for comparison purposes with any other response you receive.

Please note that our systems are designed to record information for policing purposes and the investigation of crime and not to extract statistical information. Accordingly whilst we endeavour to extract relevant data within the time limits of the Act, any data supplied is subject to these limitations.

I can confirm a search has been conducted of our Arrest Recording System from 01/01/2023 to 31/01/2023 whereby the offences recorded were from your list above.

The result for the requested time period was 2 arrests.

Please note that any further breakdown of this data would likely identify individuals and is therefore exempt under Section 40 of the Freedom of Information Act.

Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires Gloucestershire Constabulary, when refusing to provide information (because the information is exempt) to provide you the applicant with a notice which: (a) states the fact, (b) specifies the exemption in question and (c) states (if not otherwise apparent) why the exemption applies.

With regard to any further information, the following exemption applies:

Section 40(2) Personal Information

Section 40(2) applies to third party personal data. This would not be released under the Freedom of Information Act unless there is a strong public interest. The disclosure of any information which could lead to the identification of an individual would breach the Data Protection Principles contained within the Data Protection Act 2018, namely the first principle which states that personal data shall be processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner in relation to individuals

This exemption is absolute and class based therefore I am not required to apply either the public interest test or harm test in disclosure.

In accordance with the Act, this letter represents a Refusal Notice for this part of your request.

If you are not satisfied with this response or any actions taken in dealing with your request, you have the right to ask that we review your case under our internal procedure. Please note that a request for an internal review must be made within 20 working days of the response to your original request.

If you decide to request that such a review is undertaken and following this process you are still unsatisfied, you then have the right to direct your complaint to the Information Commissioner for consideration.
