On 27/05/2025 you sent an email constituting a request under the Freedom of Information Act asking the following:

Dear Freedom of Information Officer,

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000, I am requesting the following information for the time period 1 January 2015 to 4 April 2025:

1) The total number of data requests Gloucestershire Constabulary has made to the website Vivastreet as part of its investigations into potential criminality connected to a prostitution advert on the website.

For your reference, South Wales Police established that they have recorded 28 data requests to Vivastreet in the time period via the following method: "We consulted with our Crime and Criminal justice unit who have provided the following information regarding your request. A search has been conducted on our crime and incident reporting system (NICHE RMS) for all occurrences recorded throughout the specified time period containing one of the following key words, Vivastreet and Viva street. Additionally relevant operational teams who conduct enquiries in this area were also contacted to retrieve any information they held in relation to this request. All results retrieved were individually interrogated to establish relevance to your request."

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 s1, I can confirm that Gloucestershire Constabulary holds some relevant information.

Our records show we hold data from September 2021 in which 23 data requests have been made.
