Dear

Gloucestershire Constabulary Freedom of Information request FOI_25_1160

On 30/11/2025 you sent an email constituting a request under the Freedom of Information Act asking the following:

1: Do you currently offer a diversion/education course for people who have been caught for kerb crawling? If not: have you ever offered such a course, and if so, why was the course discontinued? Are there any discussions about introducing such a course at the moment?

2: If you currently offer such a course, could you please provide me with the following info:

- start date of the initiative
- how often is it running and participants per course
- Anything you might be able to share about aims/objectives
- how many people has to been offered to on an annual basis for the last 5 years
- what are the criteria for being offered the course?
- how many people chose to do the course / declined to do the course
- what was the reoffending rate for kerb crawling among those that participated in the course / did not participate in the course?

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 s1, I can confirm that Gloucestershire Constabulary holds some relevant information.

Gloucestershire Constabulary has never offered a course targeted at suspects of kerb crawling offences.

If you are not satisfied with this response or any actions taken in dealing with your request, you have the right to ask that we review your case under our internal procedure. Please note that a request for an internal review must be made within 20 working days of the response to your original request.

If you decide to request that such a review is undertaken and following this process you are still unsatisfied, you then have the right to direct your complaint to the Information Commissioner for consideration.

The Information Commissioner can be contacted via the following means:
